

I strongly believe a free and open internet is one of the greatest technological inventions of our time, it is so important to consumers that the control remains open and not at the mercy of corporations. All web sites should be treated equally to the benefit of the consumers.

Leaving it free and open will stimulate competition and keep pricing more fair. In the end, it really protects freedom of speech, which is one of our constitutional rights!